hours came back to us last night as we witnessed the performance of Mr. Collins as the Irish Ambassador. The best, and, in fact, almost the only representative of a certain class of characers, Mr. Collins never fails to receive the trib ate of enthusiastic applause from the appreciathenever his name is announced for an engage ment in Louisville. We are irresistibly reminded of Powers when we see this finished and accomplished artist, not from an imitation of style, ut from the resemblance to be traced between the two actors, preëminently great in their pe-culiar lines, although the manner of each may oe widely different. Mr. Collins has the advanantage over the recollection of his great rival one respect, and that is in the inimitable manner in which he can give an Irish ballad .-"Widow Machree" becomes irresistibly droll sung by him, and the melodies of Moore won-

To-night Mr. Collins appears in two of his nost effective pieces-The Nervous Man and Teddy the Tiler. In the course of the performance he will sing the "Sprig of Shelalah," "Widw Machree," "Low Back Car," and "Widow Mahoney"-quite a concert in itself. The per ormances of the evening will conclude with the trollery of the inebriate Toodles.

DE LA LUE'S PANOPTICON OF INDIA.-Ther no cessation in the interest felt in this won erful piece of mechanical ingenuity and artisic skill. The fashion and clite of the city were ut in full force again at Mozart Hall last night witness it. The Panopticon is now fairly bere the public, and the interest it excites, and he enthusiastic applause it nightly elicits, are the best evidences of its intrinsic merits, as he most astounding, wonderful, and life-like combination of science, genius and mechanism ever conce.ved. The representations of thousands of soldiers on the march, the engagement, the battle, the retreat, the victory of the besieging army, the field of battle after the enragement, the wounded, the dying, all combine o make this a most thrilling and startling exibition. We have never seen an entertainment possessing that fascinating power to so completely enchain the entire sympathy and atention of the audience. The enthusiastic and requent applause of the audience at each exhioition is proof positive of their approval. The

isual representation will take place to-night. MOZART SOCIETY CONCERT.-The musical public of Louisville will be gratified at the auuncement that the Mozart Society will give their first rehearsal of the season in public to ight. The large hall of Masonic Temple will on this occasion undoubtedly be filled with the eauty and fashion of the city. The concerts ble for a very mean man to stoop. of the Mozart Society have ever proved most greeable, and as it embraces much of the amaur musical talent of Louisville, it eminently serves the patronage of our citizens. From this time forward, we beg our friends to give no heed to any of the Opposition sensa-tional items. Foiled and driven back at every point, covered all over with their own false oods on Buchanan, Breckinginge, Bright. YANCEY, and all who have been true to the Con stution that have been sent home to roost, and writhing under the certain doom now almost upon them, there is nothing to which they will not stoop, no villainy they will not attempt, to add one day to the lease of their wretched existence, or to throw one stumbling block in the way of the friends of the Constitution and the Union. They desire, above all things in the bounds of their hopes the election of Lincoln, from whom they know they will receive the federal patronage in the slaveholding States. Southern men who would give currency to Mr. R. S. LACKEY'S letter to the New York Aboition paper under the circumstances, are capable of stooping still lower if possible to publish the "startling diselosures" copied from the Winshester Union into yesterday's Journal, and aid in giving cirulation to the terrible accounts of secret circulars "in cypher" with which the mountains are flooded, filled with plots to disrupt the Confederacy, to ruin the country, to bring war, pestilence, and famine on our people, &c., &c., &c., &c.!-letters in "cypher," full of treason and crime, addressed at random to men whose ames and sentiments and position and reliabil ity are totally unknown to the writers and lotters! And this stuff-these self-stamped falsehoods-these ridiculous and really con temptible lies, so discreditable to all connected with them in any manner, and so insulting to the intelligence and understanding of the people to whom they are addressed-these are the st hope of the advocates of a cause bad in itself, and like to be made but another name for nfamy by the shameless plottings and disgrace-

AN UNFAITHFUL WIFE .- One of those unforunate episodes that occur sometimes in married life—but never in well regulated families—took place in the lower part of the city a few aights since. A husband was informed that his young wife had proved faithless to her marriage vow. He repelled the charge with scorn, and make assurances doubly sure, he constituted by the chart to he Philadelphia Board of Trade at the Galt fouse last night at 9 o'clock; to tender them set a watch upon the unsuspecting, but, as the sequel proved, amorous partner of his bosom. and would not be home that night. But he did. and got in under the bed without his wife perceiving him. He laid there a short time and the woman entered the room, and taking her seat by the eradle, commenced singing to their inant child. His heart filled with those emotion that do honor to our manhood; how could he suspect the mother who thus woodd her darling, his child, to the embrace of sleep. He was at the point of discovering himself to her when a gentle knock at the door revealed the presence of a roystering blade of an Irishman. A few minutes' conversation and actual ob servation disclosed to the husband the true character of the wretched woman. The husband rose in his frenzy, but too late to wreak vengeance on the man who had destroyed his peace of mind, for the villain had fled. He then turned on the woman and beat her until her screams brought a policeman to witness the nhappy scene. The parties have separated, and the bad wife has been sent home. The passions of men and their infidelities, and the weakness of women, cause half the world's

AN INSANE WOMAN FOUND WITH HER THROAT Cur.-On Saturday last a poor German woman named Pfifer, was found in her dwelling o hort street, Lexington, Ky., with several gashes on the head and her throat cut almost from ear to ear. An ax quite sharp edged and razor were found covered with blood by her side, but from the character and situation of the wounds on her head, it is not believed she at tempted to commit suicide. No one was in the house at the time she was found, which was very soon after the occurrence, and her husband and child, the only members of her family, were in a distant part of the city when she was found. Mrs. Pfifer has been insanc for some time past, iolent character, no restraint had been place upon her. Life was not extinct when she was discovered, but there is little hope left of her recovery, not more from the nature of her wounds than the great loss of blood.

THE CONCERT .- Many of our readers who live in the upper end of the city, and who are fond of music, in consequence of their distance from our music halls, are frequently unable to attend concerts because of the distance. These wil be glad to learn that next Thursday evening, at the Fourth Presbyterian Church, on Hancock street, between Main and Market, a concert wil be given for the benefit of the church. As will be seen by the advertisement, some of the best talent of the city will assist the choir on this occasion, and we have every expectation, from the character of music included in the programme, that the house will be crowded to its

The advent of these gentlemen, representing, s they do, the interests of a great city, which has ever been identified not only with the commercial interests of the country but especially with the South, will be a source of satisfaction mong those of our citizens who have been onversant with trade. Mr. Cassery said:

It is with unfeigned pleasure, gentlemen, that I perform the duty imposed on me by the merchants and citizens of Louisville, of welcoming your highly respectable body to this city, and of tendering you its hospitalities. I can assure you that your arrival has been looked forward to with feelings of no ordinary interest. It is the first time in the history of our city that we have been visited by a body of merchants from abroad in any corporate espacity; and however the occasion may effect you, it will certainly form an epoch in our annals.

The period of your visit is singularly opportune. We are upon the eve of an election which is said to menace the continuance of the Union.
There are those wno believe that the ties of amity and comity which have so long bound us together are soon to be dissevered; and that the North and the South are no longer to stand together are soon to present again the time worn speciacle of a free people unable to maintain their position among nations.

It is singularly lit, therefore, that the representastives of two of the most conservative cities of this Republic, representing also the paramount interests of the country, should, upon the eve of this dreaded occasion, meet and exchange the courtesics of life as friends and brothers.

To which Mr. Samuel E. Stokes responded as follows:

Sir, and Gentlemen of the Louisville Committee: Allow me in behalf of your Philadelphia visitors to thank you most heartily for the welcome extended to us, and especially for the beaution on which we are now engaged are to visit the cities of the West and observe the greatness of this wonderful region, and in particular to strengthen the bonds of friendship between the merchants of Philadelphia and their Western brethren. Coming also, if possible, to form new connections and friendships. This can be accomplished far better by personal interviews than by participating in public banquets. We, sir, are practical men; we came here for a practical, not a festive purpose; and the few hours of our necessarily limited stay must be employed to the best advantage, which precludes festivities, however otherwise welcome. I may add that similar reasons have required us to decline an invitation of the same character at St. Louis. It is, therefore, with regret that we will be unable to accept your kindly profered banquet, and that to-morrow you will assist us in examining the beauties and important features of your noble city, and that you will now introduce the members of our committee to your own citizens, in order that the object for which we have come, the mutual interests of the two cities, may be the better secured.

A RIDICULOUS AND DISGUSTING AFFAIR.—The Philadelphia correspondent of the Baltimore Sun thus speaks of the Republican jubilee in that city on the 23d:

The Republicans yesterday celebrated their success in this State by a barbocue at Girard Park, where a large ox was strung upon a pole, and rossied over a large fire—while a large quantity of potatoes were cooked in the alne.—The whole affair is represented to have been exceedingly ridiculous, if not disgusting. Those present were supplied with long butcher-knives, by means of which they were enabled to carve the bullock to their own satisfaction and the infinite amusement of the bystanders. Certain portions of the animal, which were pronounced "well done," appeared to be relished heartily, while many wry faces were made in the mastication of raw bits, which had apparently only smelt the fire. Hundreds of boys might have been seen running wildly about with great spareribs and bits of shank in their hands, dripping that city on the 23d: ibs and bits of shank in their hands, dripping

A SINGLE POUND OF COTTON.—The London "Quarterly Review," in an article upon cotton spinning machines and their inventors, thus illustrates the productiveness of brain and hand by showing what machinery now enables the cotton-pinner to do with a pound of cotton: A manufacturer of Manchester exports what is called No. 240 yarn in large quantities for the use of the finest foreign muslin manufacturers. Of the fineness of this thread some idea may be formed when we state that two hundred and forty hanks, each eight hundred and fifty yerds in length, are spin from a single pound weight of cotton, or a total length of one hundred and fourteen miles! But this does not by any means exhaust the capabilities of English machinery; for at the great exhibition of 1851 specimens of yarn span at Boston were exhibited so fine as No. 700, or equal to three hundred and thirty-four miles in length, spun from one pound of material! Worked up into the finer kinds of lace, the original shilling's worth of cotton-wool before it passes into the hands of the consumer may be increased to the value of between $200 and $2400.

JOHN BELL AND HIS RECORD.

CHAPTER I.
THE BASIS OF MR. BELL'S PARTY. THE BASIS OF MR. BELL'S PARTY.

On the 10th of May, 1860, a political Convention, which had met in Baltimore to found a new political party, nominated John Bell for President, upon the following basis:

"Resolved, That it is both the part of patriotism and of duty to recognize no political principles, other than "The Constitution of the country,

"The Union of the States, and

"The Enforcement of the Laws."

MR. BELL APPROVES IT.

On the 22d of July, 1860, Mr. Bell, in reply to a letter of Mr. Watts, of Alabama, asking his opinion of certain public questions, declined to answer, and said:

"Had I been a member of the Convention. I certained. The New York Journal of Com-merce, by advices from Syria, learns the follow-answer, and said:

"Ifted I been a member of the Convention, I would have resisted the adoption of any platform or other declaration of principles not embraced or implied in the three fundamental propositions or objects intended to be maintained or secured by the National Union party, and which continue the basis of its organization."

nerec, by advices from Syria, learns the following facts:

Every week, now that the strong arm of Fuad Pacha is restoring some degree of order in the hain country, it not entirely in the Lebanon districts, new masses of human wretchedness are coming to light. Only a few days preceding the 23d of September, some three thousand niserable creatures were heard of by the Anglo-American Relief Committee at Beirui, as eady to perish at or near a place called "The Jedars of Lebanon," and 30,000 plasters (or 1,200) were sent up to save them from death y famine and destitution. About the same time 3,000 wretched beings had reached Sidon, rom the region of Hasbeya, who must be cared or. And, finally, near 4,000 had come from another quarter to Beirui—thus increasing the number of those who must be fed by the committee at Beirut (and many of them clothed on) from 14,000 up to more than 25,000! Nor cost this include all of the poor creatures who must be fed through the winter. As the aumann wears away and the pinching cold commences on Lebanon, hundreds and thousands who have been seeking a miserable sustemance from herbs on its sides and in its ravines, will ecompelled to come down to Beirut and idon, and they must be fed and clothed, or die! "If we holst the banner of the Whig party, we would all know its principles, for they are as familiar as nonsehold words. If we adopt the banner of the American party, their principles of the new party? It has been said their banner will be inscribed with the "Constitution, the Union and Enforcement of the Laws." Certainly, a very pretty inserption, but motioz are not principles. But how is the Constitution to be interpreted? What laws are to be executed, and who are to expound them? are questions that need to be anxered. We are here as brothers—as Virginians—and whilst I venerate the Union and the country, I love Virginia more. [Applause.] * I believe if all the Opposition elements in the various States were banded together they could succeed. But if those elements were not united on some national principles, the fruits would turn to ashes in our hands." WHAT ROBERT E. SCOTT TRINKS OF THIS BASIS In addition to the measures already in proress in the United States to send prompt reitef, it has been suggested that on the coming Thanksgiving Day (which will be observed proably on the 29th of November in nearly every States the Union) collections in aid of the sufferers be taken up in the churches of all denomnations. The Journal remarks that the Presbyterian Synods of New York and New Jersey have already adopted this suggestion, and adds:

It is probable that other Synoids have done or will do the same. What can be more appropriate than that a liberal contribution should be made on that joyous occasion by the churches

Mr. Bell, in his letter referred to, says:

Late one bitter cold night in December, some sight or nine years ago, L. came into the parroom, as usual, to take his part in whatever was going on. MR. BELL'S RECORD. The first thing that strikes us in that record is the fact that in the various disputes which have arisen in Congress upon the slavery question, and when the friends of the country, North South have labored to effect honorable see and South, have labored to effect honorable set-tlements and thus secure tranquility to the peo-ple and safety to the Union, Mr. Bell has proved very impracticable, and has very often been found voting against his own people and the Northern national men, and in company with the Abolltionists. CHAPTER II. Mr. Bell's Votes on the Early Abolition Movements in Congress ABOLITION PETITIONS.

ABOLITION PETITIONS.

In 1835, the systematic agitation of the slavery question commenced at the North, and Abolition petitions were poured in upon Congress.—
The next year, resolutions designed to put a stop to this, by declaring the opinion of Congress, were offered by Mr. Pinckney, of S. C., from a committee appointed to consider the subject. Mr. Bell voted with Adams and Slade to keep off the vote, and then failed to you execut on one resolution.

subject. An her vote, and then failed to vote except on one resolution.

At the next session (1836-7), Mr. Bell voted with Adams and Slade against the motions to suspend the rules to permit the adoption of Mr. Davis' resolutions to lay all Abolition petitions on the table, without debate or reading.

January 23d, 1837, Mr. Adams presented a number of Abolition petitions. The Speaker raid that, under the rules, they would go to the table. Mr. Adams appealed in two instances. Mr. Bell declined to vote on both occasions.

February 6th, 1837, Mr. Adams presented a petition from stages. Resolutions of censure were proposed. Mr. Bell voted for two motions to lay them all on the table; and again voted with only 20 others for a Similar resolution.

December 20th, 1837, was a day of intense excitement in Congress. Hon. Thos. H. Benton thas describes the seene in his "Thirty Years' View:"

"The most angry and portentous debate.

The most angry and portentous debat with instructions to report a bill in was engaged on the fillh floor in adjusting one of the ropes by which the mortar is hoisted from the basement. While he had the rope firmly grasped in his hands, the horse attached below suddenly started, drawing up eight or ten feet, and leaving him perilously hanging directly over the hatchway! Leaing his presence of mind, and failing to retain his hold, he dropped. Fortunately he eaught hold of a rope in his dedered still more exasperating by the manner of supporting it."

Repeated efforts were made by Southern mer

Repeated enorts were made by Southern mem-bers to prevent the progress of the speech by salls to order and motions to adjourn; but Slade having the floor, refused to yield it, and was sui-fered to proceed. The excitement was intense. At last Mr. McKay, of N. C., made a point of or-der, which the Speaker sustained, and Slade was forced to give way, still, however, keeping his feet, with the intention of respective. was forced to give way, still, however, keeping his feet, with the intention of resuming his speech, if possible. Mr. Rencher, another member from North Carolina, seized the opportunity thus offered of getting the floor and moved an adjournment. The contest had been bitter and violent to the last degree, and the House was in a tempest. The South and the conservative men of the North voted for the adjournment, while Slade and his backers opposed it. The list of nays was headed by John Quincy Adams, and numbered only 63, among whom was included the whole Abolition strength in the House. Three Southern men only voted against adjourning, so as to enable Slade to continue his speech, and one of them was JOHN BELL, of Tennessee. THE POPULATION OF LONDON.—A public meating was recently held in London to promote the interests of the London City Missions. As evidence of the missellaneous character of the city population and of the need of increased missionary effort, it was stated by one of the speakers that more than helf the adult population of London were born in the province. It

It contains more Scotch descendants than in Ed-inburg, more Irish than in Dublin, 100,000 more Romanists than in Rome, and more Jews than in Palestine. There were also there no less than 60,000 Germans, 30,000 French, and 6,000 Italians, a very large number of Asiatics from all parts of the East, and many who still wor-ship their idols. The West Indias and North and South America are also largely repre-sented. speech, and one of them was JOHN BELL, of Tennessee.

"Phis opposition to adjournment," says Mr. Benton, "was one of the worst features of that unhappy day's work—the only effect of keeping the flouse together being to increase irritation and to multiply the chances for an outbreak. From the beginning Southern members had been in favor of it, and essayed to accomplish it, but were prevented by the tenacity with which Mr. Slade kept possession of the floor; and now, at last, when it was time to adjourn any way—when the House was in a condition in which no good could be expected, and great harm might be apprehended, there were sixty-three members, being nearly one-third of the House, willing to continue it in session."

In order to avoid these scenes, on the next day a resolution was offered by Mr. Patton, of Virginia, in behalf of a Southern cancus, that all abolition petitions should be laid on the table without being debated, printed, read, or referred. On ordering the main question to be put, in order to bring the House to a vote on the resolution, Mr. Bell voted in the negative, with Adams, Slade & Co. The question then recurring on the passage of the resolution, Mr. Bell found it convenient not to vote. Pages 41, 45, Congressional Globe, 2d session 35th Congress. A Noble Pair of Horars.—Mr. Russell Wood, of Holyoke, Massachusetts, had a very narrow and miraculous escape from death last Tuesday. While coming down a mountain with a load of wood, he fell off, and was so paralyzed as to be unable to move, and was obliged to remain under the wagon wheels from 3 o'clock in the afternoon till 11 in the evening, when he was found and rescued by his alarmed and searching family. His horses had stood still for eight hours, although so impatient to be gone that they had pawed deep holes in the ground beneath them. If they had moved, Mr. Wood must have been killed. FROM HAYTI.—Intelligence from Hayti to the 6th inst. has been received. James Redpath, a noted Abolitionist of the revolutionary school, and a biographer of John Brown, had received a popular ovation at Portau-Prince on the 27th of September, the occasion being his departure to the United States. Speeches of the most ultra character were delivered, and toasts were drank to the honor of Thaddeus Hyatt, Victor Hugo, M. de Lamartine, and the memory of John Brown. After the banquet, Mr. Redpath was accompanied to the vessel by a torch-light procession, amid great enthusiasm.

recurring on the passage of the resolution, Mr. Bell found it convenient not to vote. Pages 41, 45, Congressional Globe, 2d session 35th Congress.

December 11th, 1848, Mr. Atherton, of N. H., brought forward his celebrated resolutions, concerning the power of Congress over the subject of slavery. The last resolution was in these words:

"Every petition, memorial, resolution, proposition or paper touching or relating in any way or to any extent whatever to slavery as aforessid, or the abolition thereof, shall, on the presentation thereof, without any further action thereon, be laid upon the table without being debated, printed, or referred."

Various motions were made to stave off a vote on the resolutions. A call of the House was moved for the purpose of consuming time, when all but nine members answered to their names, being a remarkably full House. In order to get to a vote on the resolutions, a motion was made to dispense with the call, when Mr. Bell voted with Adams, Slade & Co., in the negative. The call was dispensed with, however, and the House was about to come to a vote, when Mr. Bell moved to adjourn, and this, too, when the House had been in session only one hour and forty minutes! The House refused to adjourn in spite of the votes of Bell, Adams, Slade & Co. The question then recurred on ordering the main question to be put, the object of which was to bring the House to a vote on the resolutions. Mr. Bell again voted with Adams, Slade & Co., in the negative. A motion to adjourn was then again made, in order to consume time and delay a vote on the resolutions. Mr. Bell again voted with Adams, Slade & Co., in the negative. A motion to dipour was then again made, in order to the last one, given above, in reference to the disposal of Abolition petitions. A noted Abolitionist from Pennsylvania moved to lay this resolution on the table; Mr. Bell voted in the question recurring on its passage, Mr. Bell voted against it, in company with Adams, Slade & Co.

(1) · the Clayton Compromise. It proposed to allow the Territorial Legislature the Centuctor compromise. It proposed to allow the Territorial Legislature—
"Power to legislate upon all subjects consistent with the Constitution and laws of the United States, but no power to prohibit or establish African slavery by law. An appeal was provided from all decision, of the Territorial judges in cases of writs of habens corpus, or other cases where the issue of personal freedom should be presented to the court."—[Mr. Clayton's speech, March 1st, 1854.
This proposition to refer the decision of the territorial slavery to the Courts, requiring the territorial Legislature meanwhile not to interfere, was passed in the Senate on the 26th of July, 1848, by a vote of 33 to 22, after a continuous session of 22 hours!—so carnest was the struggle.

MR. BELL VOTES AGAINST THE KANSAS-NEBRASKA TERRITORIAL BILL.

The bill organizing Kansas Territory, and repealing the Missouri Compromise prehibition, in conformity to the Compromise of 1850, was passed March 4th, 1854, yeas 57, nays 14. The yeas included every Southern man except John Bell and Sam Houston—the latter of whom voted against the bill on the ground that it did not sufficiently protect the rights of the Indians. With them voted Sumner, Seward, Hale, Chase, Hamlin, Wade, Fessenden, and five others of the same school. MR. BELL VOTES AGAINST THE BILL FOR THE AD-MISSION OF EANSAS.

In 1858, when the bill for the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, was pending, Mr. Bell voted for the Montgomery. Crittenden amendment, with only two other Southern members, (Crittenden and Kennedy,) and along with Hale and Hamlin, Seward and Summer, and Wade and Wilson. [Congressional Globe, vol. 36, p. 126.] He voted against the Senate bill, with only one other Southern Senator (Crittenden). [Congressional Globe, vol. 36, p. 1264.] Upon the Green-Pugh amendment, he voted alone of all the Southern Senators against it. In these votes he disobeyed the expressinstructions of his State Legislature.—[Congressional Globe, vol. 36, p. 864.] On the final passage of the bill as agreed on by the two Houses, (the English bill,) he did not vote at all.

SLAVERY IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Senate, September 14, 1850, Mr. Bell declared as follows:

"With regard to the Constitutional power of Congress over this subject, I would say that the only doubt I have of the existence of the power either to suppress the slave trade, or to abolish slaver; in the District, is inspired by the respect for the eminent men, both in and out of Congress, who hold that Congress has no such power. Reading the Constitution for myself, I believe that Congress has all the power over the subject in their respective jurisdiction."

MR. BELL OFFERS TO ABOLISH SLAVERY IN THE DISTRICT, IF THE ABOLITIONISTS SHALL PERSEVERS.

WERE.

"But, however great my respect may be for the opinion of others on the question of power, there are some considerations of such high account as, in my judgment, to make it desirable, that unless by common consent the project of abolition shall be wholly abandoned, the remnant of slavery existing in the District, should be abolished at once. At the present moment, however, the excited state of public sentiment in the South growing out of territorial questions, seems to forbid such a course. For myself, if the sentiment of the South were less inflamed, I would prefer that course to be kept an open question."

DISTRICT TO THE DEMANDS OF THE NORTH.

"Slavery in the District of Columbia is now the only remaining ground of contention—the only remaining ground of econtention—the part of the anti-slavery North. I do not include the fanatics. They will be satisfied with nothing short of the extinction of slavery in the States; but all others at the North disclaim any intention, or design, or any constitutional power to interfere with slavery anywhere but in the District of Columbia. I would like to see all causes of disturbance and contention in the District wholly removed. But let me say that this can never be done by the abolition of slavery, unless it be accompanied by adequate provision for the removal and the effective control of the slaves after they shall be emancinated." MR. BELL HASTENS TO SUBMIT TO GNE AGGRES SION IN ORDER TO SEE WHETHER ANY MORE would be offered.

"With this determination, and in order to test the determination of the North in regard to any further and continued aggression upon Southern feelings and the security of Southern property. I WOULD BE CONTENT TO SEE of SUPPLY M. WILL DEFENDED. Southern feelings and the security of Southern property, I WOULD BE CONTENT TO SEE SLAVERY IN THE DISTRICT ABOLISHED TO-DAY. In one aspect of the subject, I am not sure that it would not be a GREAT CONSERVATIVE MEASURE, both as regards the Union and the interests of the South. The District, once relieved of all sources of dissension, we would be speedily enlightened upon the question whether the North would stop there or raise new and more dangerous issues. If all agliation should cease, then would the whole country, in all its sections and interests, experience the blessings of repose from this distracting controversy; on the other hand, should the North manifest a determination to continue the strife, by attacking other points, the uncertainty which now hangs over the fortunes of the South would be dispelled, and the people would then have the option of deciding their own destiny without further delay. They could either make up their minds to submit in quiet, and with becoming grace, to whatever the North may decree, or take steps for successful resistance. If it were proposed now to eradiente slavery from the District, and at the same time provide proper securities for the removal or effective control of the free colored population, I am not prepared to say that the noval or effective control of the free colored population, I am not prepared to say that the South should resist the measure."

REMARKS.—The above extracts relative to slavery in the District, are all from the speech first referred to. The question of slavery in the District of Columbia deeply concerns the rights and interests of the States of Maryland and Virginia, as well as the citizens of the District. To abolish it there, would make the District an Abolition rendezvous in the heart of Southern soil; it is bad enough as it is.

Mr. Bell believes Congruss has the constitutional gover to do this—he desires to see it down, and done at once. His purposes in this were tional power to do this—he desires to see it done, and done at once. His purposes in this were first—to purchase peace by surrendering the point of assault, and second, to try a costly experiment on Abolition forbustance at the expense of the citizens of the District and of the States of Maryland and Virginia.

What other Southern man would pay for such a peace the price of such a submission? What other Southern man, in order to try an experiment, the result of which a child could foretell, would establish an Abolition asanctuary and point whence the Abolition assaults might be made, in the hearts of the much abused and defrauded States of Maryland and Virginia? What other man, North or South, would have thought the experiment worth trying? other man, North or South, would have thought the experiment worth trying?

Is this statesmanship? Then John Bell is our only statesman. Is this fidelity to the South? Then the South has no other loyal son. Is this kind and just to Virginia and Maryland? Then Virginia and Maryland? Then Virginia and Maryland have no other friends. Is this wise policy? Then philosophy teaches in vain, that the spirit of encroachment cannot be subdued by a chrinking submission—that the spirit of rapacity is not to be extinguished by the proffer of bounties. The on these that they feed! It was by such disgraceful purchases of peace, and such experiments upon the forbearance of aggressors, that Romefell, the victim of her folly.

nee of aggressors, that nometen, the victim of her folly.

People of the United States—people of the South—and especially ye people of Maryland and Virginia—is John Bell the man for you, and for the Presidency? Is he a wise man? Is he a safe man? Is his mind well balanced? Or, rather, is not his mind crotchetty, and his action perverse, uncertain, and unsafe?

The Excitement at the South.

Washington, Oct. 24, 1860.
There is a great deal of excitement here, mong gentlemen of the very highest social point from the South and the Southwest, at the itton from the South and the Southwest, at the prospect of Linsoln's election. Even the Southern ladies partake of the general temper of the imes. There is no use attempting to misrepeacht or disguise the violent and determined one of opinion and feeling in that region. The public press of the Carolinas and of the Gulf ates rather underrates, certainly understates, stead of exaggerating, both the accretity of instead of exaggerating, both the acerbity of emotion and the resolute purpose of the people. We are on the eve of revolutior. Men and women and children there, have the very same feelings towards Republicans which our ancestors and their families, young and old, entertained when they three off the dominion of a distant Rome Government in 1776.

I understand from a good source that the President barely hopes for the continuance of peace during the Administration. I am told that he fears the issue of secession will be precipitated immediately after the election, without waiting for the inauguration of Lincoln.

A Wedding and a Runaway Wife all is one Day.—Last Friday a young man applied to the Mayor, and told him that he loved one of the fair nymphs, then an occupant of the city prison, and that if his Honor would let her out of jail and unite them in the bonds of wedlock he would take her out of the way of temptation. This Honor compiled with the request, and the two were married without fee or reward. Perhaps the Mayor kissed the bride, and perhaps he didn't, we did not inquire; but if he did, it was all the fee he got. The happy pair started on foot on a wedding tour to the rural districts. They had not got far beyond the city limits when an old crony met them, and gave the young groom a dime and a bottle, and sent him back to get a quart of whisky. The happy husband, in response to the wishful looks of his bride, yielded to the tempter and started for the liquic. When he returned both wife and friend had vanished, and in his despair he swallowed the liquid, returned to town and bewailed his hard fate so noisily on the streets that he got in all for height driven and distanting the peace.

By the arrival at New Orleans, last Wedness day, of the steamer Tennessee from Vera Cruz, the Picayune of Thursday has files of Mexican papers as late as due from all parts of the Re. ublic; from the City of Mexico to the 17th:

before their departure the news arrived that the city of Guadalajara was taken on the 11th. It is added that the news was fully credited at the capital.

The event, which now seems to be fully confirmed, is a most important one, and may be the turning part of the eivil war. Guadalajara is the second city of the Republic, rich and prosperous, and has been defended with great obstinacy. It has long been, moreover, the principal stronghold of the reactionists in that part of the Republic, and its capture is believed to open the way direct to the capital.

Our files abound in most touching letters from the besieged city, from which it would appear, as might indeed have been expected, that the suffering of the people was very great. We learn, indeed, from a letter of General Ortega himself, that on the 1st inst. the suffering had become so great that the fire upon the city was suspended for the space of three hours, that women and children might leave the town. How many actually left we are not informed, but it would appear that the number was small. In all probability the poor people knew not what to do, and there, for the space of at least twenty days, they remained huddled together in the center of the town, farthest removed from the shots of the besiegers, suffering each hour discomforts and anxieties which must have been worse than death itself.

In the same letter General Ortega gives an equally sad account of the demoralization and necessities of the soldiery in the town, which must have added tenfold to the horrors of the seen. In the meantime the line of the besiegers advanced night and day, and the General writes on the 1st with the most perfect confidence that the city would be compelled to capitulate at an early day.

Of the expiralation we have no particulars, nor of the disposition of the people, nor of the killed and wounded. The latter must in any case have been large.

From the capital we have but a repetition of the news we have for months nast bad to recovi-sion we can well believe to be true. It is also stated that the troops were being called in from the city of Puebla, which was to be abandoned to the Constitutionalists.

In the meantime it is stated that General Degoliado had been detected in intrigues with the Miramon Government for an amicable arrangement between the two parties, and for this he had been ordered to Vera Cruz for trial. The British Minister, Mr. Mathews, is supposed to be at the bottom of it. British Minister, Mr. Mathews, is supposed to be at the bottom of it.

A correspondent of the New Orleans Delta, writing on the 15th inst., says:

A deed of horror has come to my knowledge which surpasses anything of the kind that has ever been heard of. These represent different portions of the State, and all the counties are very rich with alflavial soil, except in Ohio county, where Mr.
Rabb's crop was produced on a river bottom.
The enormous crop of Eliis R. Lake will be best explained by the following, from his statement: "Harvested and weighed from 5th October to loth October, 1850." The kind of corn was a large yellow, and consequently, at this time and in such a damp fall, was but inside dried. The amount should have been ascertained by measurement. The Board requires weighing for the crops it awards premiums to, at its January meeting, to be weighed in December. But at this time of the year it is a most uncertain mode. How much Mr. Lake raised cannot be told, but it must still be a very large crop.

His soil, cultivation, etc., are stated thus: "Quality of soil, a sand and loam river bottom, based on clay. Broken up about ten inches deep, about the first of May, and planted from the 10th to the 15th of the same mouth, in rows one way, three feet apart, and the plants from five to six inches apart in the row. Plowed with a shovel plow three times; whole cost of

His crop of ten acres was raised on the same kind of soil, but with a different cultivation. "Plowed six inches deep about the middle of Aprik, planted in rows three and one-half feet each way, with four or five grains in a hill; plowed four times with a shovel plow, and hoed over after the first plowing." The yield was the same as in the one acre, but the cultivation greater. The time of planting is not given.—Whether all the grains planted came up, or whether it was thinned out, is not stated. His five acres, yielding 247 bushels, was cultivated in the same way, but plowed eight inches deep. The smallest crop is that of S. R. Woodfill, of Marion. He says that it "gree on upland based in the same way, but plowed eight inches deep. The smallest crop is that of S. R. Woodfill, of Marion. He says that it "gree on upland based in the same way, but plowed eight inches deep. When up six inches high, was harrowed with a one-horse harrow twice in the row, and then plowed once a week with a double shovel plow for six weeks." His crop of 14h bushels experiment to be subsedually the point and the same way, but was planted about the 25th of April, crossed off shout three feet and and the plowed once a week with a double shovel plow for six weeks." His crop of 14h bushels experiment to be subsedually the point such way. Cost of production, including seed, 25 per acre.

How many stalks were left in the hill in both cases is not stated, but if the same, then the increased amount of the last is to be attributed to its being planted closer. He, too, weighed his corn, allowing seventy pounds to the bushel. The next smallest crop is that of D. G. Rabb, of Ohio country, deservedly known as the model farmer of Indiana. His statement is, that his field, of over ten acres, is bottom land; general depth from 2 to 20 feet, on a clay basis; drained by deep and wide ditches; no manures used; broken up about the 25th of April, planted by deep and wide ditches; no manures used; broken up about 5th of May; atter being furrowed out, the sam

MR. BELL VOIES AGAINST THE CLAYTON COMPROMES.

Hon. John M. Clayton was a distinguished Whig Senator from Delaware, and was Secretary of State under President Fillmore. In 1848, he introduced into the Senate a bill for the settlement of the question of slavery in the newly acquired Mexican Territories. It is known as

The Day is at Hand.

Fellow-citizens of Kentucky, the day is ever now at hand when upon your decision and your action we in all candor believe the fate of our beloved country depends. We are no alarmist and have not appealed to the fears of our coun trymen, nor endeavored to excite their approhensions of the result. We have rather at tempted, by candid arguments and earnest reasoning, addressed to their good sense and hon-est impulses, to convince them that duty and interest and honor alike require them to rally around the flag of BRECKINRIDGE and LANE, and fight for the Constitution and the Equality of the States. We have done whatever we could do, to promote the interests of the only candidate who has the slighest possible chance of defeating LINCOLN-we have done all w could do to expose the purposes and aims and plans of the sectionalists of the North-we have endeavored to convince our people that the only hope for the South, the only means by which success may be won, or the worst conse-quences of defeat averted, is in presenting a anited front to the aggressions of the North. With a common interest with our fellow-citi zens of all parties in the maintenance of the Constitution and the preservation of the Union, we would be untrue to ourselves and false to the obligations imposed upon us by our position a public journalists, were we to do aught or say aught calculated or intended to deceive or mis-lead the great public in this crisis in our affairs: and as the struggle draws to a close, we can sincerely say, and safely appeal to our readers for the truth of the assertion, that, smid all the excitement and irritation natural to such a can vass, we have not made a single statement we did not believe to be true; that we have resorted to none of the arts of the demagogue to arouse the passions and stir up the bad feelings of the people; that, despite the provocations we have met, we have relied solely and only on the strength of our position, on the justice of our cause, and on the intelligence and virtue of the people and we indulge the pleasing reflection, that, be the result of the contest as it may, no one wil have cause to reproach us for any thing we have said or to complain of any thing we have done.

And, now, in view of the momentous interests at stake, and of the terrible crisis that is upon us in the spirit which has governed us so far, we make one more candid and earnest appeal to the patriotism and loyalty of the people of our native State, where all our affections are entwined where our loved ones sleep the sleep that know no waking, where are all our hopes, and aspirations, and wishes, and interests, where we have lived and loved, and hope to die and be buried We tell them, what the greatest and best and wisest of all parties and all sections admit, that dangerahead. Should Lincoln beeled ed, it is believed by many that a dissolution he Union is inevitable-that the glorious Confederacy of which we have been so proud will be broken up-that the Heaven-inspired Cousti tution, under which we have lived as one people and grown, and prospered, will be trampled up der foot-that, in the language of the Dougla State organ in Indiana, the South must choos a final disruption of the ties that bind them to their sister States of the North and a dishonor-

This is a terrible alternative. It should be averted if possible. Can this be done? It is doubtful, we fear; but there is hope while there is life, and firmness and courage on the part of the friends of the Union may yet save the country. It is barely possible that Lincoln may be defeated—that BRECKINEIDGE may be elected by the people. It is confidently believed that California and Oregon will go for the Nationa candidates; it is strongly hoped that New Jer sey will declare for the Union; and New York or Pennsylvania can drive back the enemy and preserve our institutions from the touch of the lestroyer. All hopes of Lincoln's defeat are centered in one of these States, and many i whose judgment we have some confidence be lieve that one or both will go against Black Rs publicanism. But the South must be a unit to make either one of these available to save us and at last it comes back for us, people of Kentucky, to determine where we will stand-for us to say whether our last and almost our only hope shall be taken from us.

If we earry New York or Pennsylvaniangains LINCOLN, the vote of Kentucky may be suffi-cient to elect Breckinging in the electoral college, and secure the triumph of the princ ples to which all parties were committed las year in the Gubernatorial canvass, and by which we are sure all yet mean to abide. If this State however, should solitary and alone cast he vote for JOHN BELL, of Tennessee, the choice might be thrown into the House of Representa tives, where Lincoln would lack but one singl vote of an election, and where the success of cither BRECKINRIDGE or BELL would be almost impossible, while the Black Republicans, by bribery and corruption, by the arts of intrigu and management, would more than probably accomplish their purposes-accomplish their purposes by means that would forbid the ide submission to their rule, and make dissolu tion a fixed fact. If we would defeat Lincol. it must be done before the people; and if we would preserve the Union, we must defeat

We believe, fellow-citizens, that of the slave holding States, but two are doubtful. We have no shadow of doubt that all save Kentucky and lissouri are certain for BRECKINRIDGE and LANE. We believe California and Oregon will stand by the Constitution and the Union and vote for Breckinridge and Lane. We believe if the people of Kentucky really desire to beat back the Black Republican hordes now hovering on their borders, they can only do it by voting for Breckinginge and Lang!

Douglas never had strength enough to get an ectoral vote. He never hoped to get one. He has labored in the interest of Mr. LINCOLN, to ose friends two years ago he pledged his aid in this battle. He is now in the slave States, hoping only to make the defeat of BRECKINBIDGE and Lane sure by means of divisions in the ranks of their friends. We are confident he will fail in his mission of hate and revenge. JOHN BELL has been repudiated by the people of his own State, who turned him out of the Senate to put in his stead one in whom they have more confidence and who will more faithfully represen them and their interests in the councils of the nation. They will not support him now. They will vote for BRECKINRIDGE and LANE. It is so in Virginia, in Maryland, and in Louisiana, where some of the more sanguine of the Union party men have had hopes of success. They are all sure to go for BRECKINGIDGE and LANE.

What, now, will this State do? Fellow-citizens of Kentucky, upon you rests such a responsibility as you have never before been called on to meet. Upon your action may de-pend the result of the election next Tuesday.— Upon your votes may be staked the hopes of a nation. Your patriotism and loyalty are subjected to a terrible test. Will you suffer your vision to be so obscured by the mists of party pride and party prejudice that you cannot se the great national interests to be affected by our action? Will you not, rather, rise sublimely superior to party ties, and give one vote for your country—one vote for the Constitu-tion—one vote for the Union—one vote against vote for BRECKINRIDGE and LANE-there are but and doubtful. A few votes in any neighborhood, at any precinct, may be decisive of the result. The individual exertion of one man from now until the eventful day may turn the cale, though that man be the humblest in the State. Do not be disheartened by the local fee ing against you in any one place; but work un til the close of the polls, feeling, as you lead each reluctant or hesitating neighbor up to cast his vote, that this one may carry the State for our gallant candidates, for our ever true principles, for the Constitution and the Union .-LANE, as you would work for your life, for the wife of your bosom, for the little ones that prattle around your knees! Work for the principles you profess-for the cause you have espoused-for the Constitution and the Union Work! and may God strengthen you to do your duty and your whole duty, and crown your pariotic labors with the choicest blessings of Treason in the Pot. The Journal has found a mare's nest, and has one into cestacies over it. Nothing could we made it happier-nothing would have been so acceptable. Has it not been crying out, day after day, and week after week, from the mo-ment Breckingings was nominated, that those who stand by the Constitution and maintain their rights under it, are engaged in a horrid plot to destroy the Union! And has it not played on this harp of a thousand strings until its own partisans grew ashamed of its music!-Has it not been conscious that its teachings were not respected, nor it assertions believed by one man in the United States! And, now, hould it not be rejoiced that something has turned up just in the nick of time to help it out! True, we suppose the whole thing has been fixed up for some time, only awaiting the eve of the election to see the light; but the or gan should be happy, and it is happy, sublime ly, rediculously, absurdly happy, because it was so written in the programme!

And now, what is it happy about, and why is it happy, and what does it all mean? Listen! Yesterday morning it introduced with an editorial flourish and an editorial indorsement, a letter from Washington City to a New York paper headed in bold capitals and black letter—"The Disunion Plot-Schemes of the Disunionists-Their Programme of Operations-Disclosures of a Federal Office Holder," &c., &c. Enough, in good faith, to make one's hair stand on end! And with such proof of all it has charged, certainly the Journal would be expected to get high! Just think of it! The disnion plot is not only on foot, but a high Fed eral official has been indiscreet enough, or faith less enough, to disclose it, and to disclose it ins in the right time and to the right person and at the right place for Know Nothings to use it. With this statement, the thing might pass without further notice, leaving the paper which has introduced this stuff to the intel ligent people of Kentucky to bear up as best it may under the weight of the contempt it has fairly carned. A word more, however, will show the people of all parties yet more clearly the character of the contest now being waged by the Opposition leaders in this State. This etter, head lines and all, is from the New York Times, an abolition paper, for which it was manufactured to benefit Lincoln; and to make the infamy of this attempt to deceive an honest people to their ruin the more complete, it is on-ly necessary to add that it was written, accordng to the Journal, by Mr. R.J. LACKEY, who was cently discharged from one of the Departments at Washington! Mr. LACKEY is the son-in-law of ex-Gov. King of Missouri, whose betrayal of his constituents at Charleston secured for him the scorn and contempt of every honest man in the State he in part represented. And Mr. LACKEY, a discharged clerk, vents his wrath on the adation by manufacturing the most infamous lies for publication in a negroite newspaper, and these "roorbacks" are indorsed and used by papers and men occupying a respecta ble position in Kentucky politics! The people will administer the proper rebuke next Tues-

The Cincinnati Enquirer stated upon the ority of one it vouched for as "a gentleman of veracity," that JESSE D. BRIGHT voted for the Black Republican State ticket at the recent election. We denied it, upon authority at least as good as the Enquirer's, and called for the name of the "gentleman of veracity." The Enquirer said it would give the name at the proper time. When Mr. BRIGHT returned home his at tention was called to the statement in the Enmirer, and he at once published a card stigms any one who says he voted for LAKE or any Black Republican candidate, as a "liar and slanderer." Isn't this a proper time to have the name of the "gentleman of veracity" upon whose authority the Cincinnati Douglas organ made the positive statement that Mr. BRIGHT voted the full Black Republican State ticket, with one exception? Or was the lie coined in the brain of some one of the unprincipled political gamblers connected with that concern Certain it is, a villainous lie has been printer and circulated, by some one; and as the Enquirer vouched for its authority, for the gentle man of veracity, it must be held responsible for The Democrat says that the Kentucky egation to Charleston voted fifty-seven times for GUTHRIE on the platform on which Doug LAS now stands, and therefore and thereby and thus indorsed it. This is not the fact. The platform was not finally disposed of during the time Mr. Guthrie's name was before the Convention. A series of resolutions had been previously adopted, it is true; but the Tennessee resolution had been offered as an addition to those already passed, and was laid over until after the nomination should be made under the rules of the Convention. No body in the Convention understood the platform was elesed; and the Douglasites, by a unanimous vote, after-wards-after the withdrawal of the Kentucky delegates-passed the Wickliffe resolution which, if it means anything at all, is one of the most important in their platform. DougLas' elegates were voting for Mr. GUTHRIE-it wa ot completed and finally disposed of until afterwards-and the Democrat knows that such is

The Executive Committee of the Opposition, if we remember aright, canvassed the State in 1856, and just before the election they published the result of their calculations for the benefit of their friends in the State. They have done so again; and the Journal yesterday published the vote by counties, as they have arranged it, in nearly half the State! All we have to say is, to take every bet that is offered on the Journal's figures, in any of the districts given, for either BELL or DOUGLAS. There is not one Congressional District in the State in which Doug LAS will get more votes than BRECKINRIDGE; and there is not one of those named in which BELL's majority will be as large as claimed, or BRECKINRIDGE's as small as conceded. Our opportunities for acquiring information are quite as good as those of the Journal, and our candid opinion is, that if our friends throughout the tate do their duty until the election, as they have done it during the past fortnight, BRECK-INRIDGE will carry Kentucky.

Mr. Bell's Record.

Elsewhere we publish, from a recent number of the Richmond (Va.) Enquirer, the first chapters of a review of the record of John Bell, to which we invite the special attention of the people of Kentucky. To-morrow, or next day, we will complete it. The substance of these chapters has been given to the public long since, in a different form; but some of the more prominent acts in the public life of Mr. BELL are here so arranged that they may be comprehended at a glance, and we are sure our people of all parties are not indisposed to examin closely a record to which they have been referred CRANBERRIES-25 bbls Cranberries in store and for for a knowledge of the antecedents and present position of a gentleman for whom they are now asked to vote.

It is said, we know not with what truth that Hannibal Hamlin, Black Republican candidate for Vice President, is part negro. That such is the case is believed by many who have seen Mr. Hamlin and know him. The Richmond (Ky.) Messenger, a Bell and Everett organ, defends him, praising him extravagant ly, though differing from him in politics. same number of the paper is full of attacks of the most scurrilous character on a Southern gentleman who has visited our State to speak for the Constitution and the Union.

The Indianapolis Sentinel having aided in eirculating the infamous lie that Mr. BRIGHT of the Black Republican State ticket, and unable to prove it against the somewhat emphatis denial of the indignant Senator, seeks to shield itself from the contempt of honest men of all parties behind petty quibbles worthy only of it self. The brand is on the brow of all who said Mr. BRIGHT voted for LANE or for any one of the Black Republican ticket, and they must Remember, that the Douglasites have withdrawn their electoral ticket in Pennsylvania, and will either vote for the electors sup ported by the Breckinridge men from the first, five more working days: will you give them to or they must go for the Black Republicans.

FEVER AND AGUE, AND ALL FEVERS BRANDRETH'S PILLS

Mr John Y. Haight, Sapervisor of New Castle, West-chester county, New York, says, November, 1858;—"I was, two years ago, attacked with fever and ague, which, notwithstanding the best medical advice, continued to wears with. orely afflict me for six tedious months; I became yellow as saffron, and reduced to skin and bone. Medi physicians were abandoned in despair. As an exper ment, I concluded to try a single dose of six of Bran-dreith's Guiversal Vegetable Pills, on an enpty stomach, early in the morning. The first dose acemed to arouse all the latent energies of my exhausted frame. I feared the the latent energies of my exhausted frame. I rearest the worst—their purgative effect was different from anything. I had ever used or heard of. At length this effect ceased and I seemed lighter and breathed freer. That evening I was indeed sensibly better and slept soundly all night. The next day I followed the same course, and continued.

The next day I followed the same course, and continued to take the pills in this way about three weeks, when I found myself entirely cured. My health has been surprisingly good ever since."

CAUTION. SPURIOUS AMERICAN WATCHES. WE are credibly informed that some of the Jewelers of sviile and other places are selling counterfeit and imitation American Watches for the genuine article, manufactured at Waltham, Mass., and par eign imitation of our watch, named P. S. Burtley, which is no manufactory of watches in that place. The genuine article of one grade of our watches is named P. S. BART

LETT, WALTHAM, MASS, and all our watches of every grade are marked "Waltham, Mass." It is hardly necessary to state that such watches ar like ours in form only, and are made upon the ame old system that has already flooded the country with watches expense, but really useless to the owners, and when bought for genuine are calculated to injure the high reputation the public against buying our watches from any person who cannot furnish a certificate of genuineness for every Robbins.
